CHURCH HOLDS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The church was filled to capacity when the Christmas program of the Sunday School of the Bassano Evangelical Free Church was held on Thursday, December 20th. John Ratzlaff, Superintendant of the Sunday School, acted as Chairman.

The theme of the program was "The Three Gifts of Christmas", which was introduced by a scroll on which these words were printed and by a recitation by some of the smaller children. These gifts were symbolized by three beautifully wrapped boxes on the platform. As the evening prog-ressed these boxes were opened and the gift that each box represented was related and explained. The three gifts were: "The Father's Gift in Giving the Lord Jesus", "The Lord Jesus in Giving His Life" and "Our Gift in Giving Our Hearts".

The closing feature was a play entitled "Truth Instead of Trimmings" and all present were challenged to worship the Christ of Christmas rather than the trimmings that are a common in rather than the trimmings that are so common in our day.

At the close of the program, gifts as well as bags of candy and nuts were presented to all of the members of the Sunday School.

The church was beautifully decorated with poinsettas and branches of greens. The background of the platform showed a scene depicting the Wise Men and the shepherds coming to Bethlehem.

LOCAL MAN WADES RIVER

Wally Pask was driving his car on the ice of the Red Deer River near Steveville on Friday when the motor suddenly started to labor and died. ran into the car from a deep stream running on top of the ice. He managed to wade to shore and obtain the assistance of a nearby farmer to pull his car to dry land.

He was thoroughly soaked to the skin but for-tunately had a change of clothing with him and suffered no serious consequences from the unexpected bath.

XMAS DANCE HAD GOOD CROWD

The dance in the Bassano Hall on Tuesday night was attended by a good sized crowd from Bassano, Cluny and Gleichen and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The music was supplied by Vance and His Melodians and some fast stepping tunes were produced to the satisfaction of the dancers.

Another big dance will be held in the Bassano Hall on Tuesday, January 1st, starting at 10 P.M. The music will again be supplied by Vance and His Melodians.

TOWN OFFERS TAX DISCOUNTS

The Town of Bassano has advertised a notice of it's intention to offer a 10% discount for the prepayment of 1957 current taxes during the month of January and for 8% discount for prepayment of current taxes during the month of February.

The Town instituted this arrangement of special discounts three years ago and is well satis-fied with the response of the taxpayers to the special discount offer. An average of 50% of the total tax levy is collected during the month of January each year under this arrangement and, while the cost of collection is slightly higher, it is easier to budget with the funds in hand.

THE OBSERVER

BY HUGH PEARCE

Old Father Time is drawing the shades over the year of 1956 which, in many ways, has been quite a mementous period in our history.

Both the farmer and the wage slave have withstood several determined assults on their pocketbooks through a raise in the cost of living and a general lowering of purchase value for our dollar.

books through a raise in the cost of living and a general lowering of purchase value for our dollar.

The Dove of Peace has experienced some very stormy situations on more than one occasion in many countries of the world and will, no doubt, appreciate the short breathing spell negotiated by a startled United Nations Organization.

The countries of the world have imitated the animals by which they are popularly known singularly well during the year just past. The Russian arly well during the year just past. The Russian Bear has attacked and plundered several bec hives and, while the Hungarian and East German bees have succeeded in stinging the Bear in many places, the Boar has finally triumphed through sheer power and ruthlessness. That tired and nearly toothless old British Lion, further handicapped by a dollar shortage and a code of ethics now out moded in this day of power politics, startled the western world by a short but determined stand for the protection of the Suez Canal (which is still the property of the British people by virtue of a solemn treaty with Egypt years ago). It is now beginning to appear that the canal might have been under the control of Russia by this time but for the Lion's prompt action in heading off the Bear. A storm of criticism (ably abetted by the United States) followed this action. One wonders what action would have resulted had Panama sudden by turned communist and seized the Panama Canal, refusing to allow free entry to the canal! The Eagle of the United States had a curious silhoutte similar to that of an estrich in most of the world's crises during the year. It is most unfortunate for the peace of the world that the worlds richest and probably most powerful nation has such a vacillating foreign policy and a tendency to "bury it's head in the sand". A loud NO from the U.S. occasionally might have worked wonders in pouring oil on the troubled waters. Canada's Beaver (a well known industrious animal) was very busy with it's foreign policy and scored several diplomatic successes abroad and in the U.N. It did resemble the chameleon, however, in trying to suit it's foreign policy to that of neighboring and Empire countries on several occasions. I would have preferred to see the Beaver act more independently at the Council table, relying more on the logic of argument rather than to gain it's point by sitting on the fence or succumbing to pressure from more powerful neighbors. The year did show, however, that Canada has a potential voice in world affairs far greater than the comparative size of this nation would indicate. The Australian Kangaroo apparently has the faculty of looking completely through the smoke screen of international political maneuverings and recog-nizing the true picture oven better than Canada's Beaver. The extra distance from the scene of action might conceivably account for that. India was another Ostrich crying peace at any price without a corresponding effort to insure peace. Communism comes only through negative effort or lack of action. Israel is supposed to be a Lion but has developed more of the characteristics of a tiger during the year just passed. France acted like a spirited race horse - rearing to go and can't go for rearing. South Africa acted like a snake in the grass - wishing to remain in the Commonwealth and, at the same time, violating every precept of the Commonwealth. The Low Countries were mice in the fields - industriously minding their own national affairs and nothing more. Japan resembled a hive of bees, continually striving to build up the hive around the queen bee. The West German Eagle was flying higher than ever. The lesson is there for all to see. A concerted community effort will work miracles for nations even as it will for local communities.

The disappointment of the year was the United Nations Organization's half hearted attempt at police action in Hungary and the Suez Canal Zone. It is the first time I over heard of a policeman having to ask a criminal for permission to arrest him! It appears that the collective organization of over half of the world (including the largest and most powerful of nations) commands less respect and authority than one of the weaker nations acting independently of the U.N. Shades of the old League of Nations!

Provincially, 1956 was kind to the Province of Alberta. Plans have been completed to sell an enormous quantity of natural gas to Eastern Canada, export of petroleum products reached an alltime high, another bumber crop was harvested (we will sell it sometime), several large industrial firms located new plants and offices in Alberta and, except for the coal mining industry, all Classes of business seemed to be prospering.

The Town of Bassano itself had another prosperous year during 1956. The local business men found it a good year for trade, a new 10 roomed school was constructed, several new dwellings were erected, several business buildings were either constructed or renovated, the ratepayers authorized the construction of a new hospital in 1957, several blocks of new water and sewer extensions were laid at a very low cost to the tax-payers, tax collections were very good and the whole picture looked bright for the Town as we enter a new year.

The district farmers harvested another bumper crop and, while they did not improve their cash position to any great extent, they did add to their general surplus quite materially.

Looking at the picture from all angles, I feel that we have much to be thankful for as we prepare to face whatever the new year has in store for us. It is with great optimism that I say the same old wish for this season of the year - HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ONE AND ALL.

Milk Board inquiry for Regina area on January 4, 1957

The Regina district Milk Pro- keep any interested party or orducers' Association has applied for ganization from making represent increase in the price to be paid sentations at the hearing.

The Association contends that alowiy but steadily rising costs of milk production warrant such an increase in the price of milk. Higher transportation costs, scarcity of labor necessitating greater mechanization at the daiby health officials have all contributed to increasing costs of production, it claims.

To look into the matter, the Milk Control Board has arranged an inquiry which will be held in the Court House at Regina on Friday, January 4, 1957, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. At that time the production, supply, dis-tribution and sale of milk in the Regina area will be thoroughly reviewed.

Persons who wish to make representations at this hearing are requested to notify the Milk Control Board not later than Thurs-day, December 28th. Failing to notify the Board will not however

PROVINCE PREPARES FOR SNOW

The weather man decides what kind of Christ-mas and New Year holidays will be had by the employees of the Maintainance Branch of the Department of Highways. If snowstorms should set in, branch crews will be laboring with their big mach ines to keep Alberta's 5,000 miles of highways in passable condition.

Maintainance crews are on call 24 hours a day and standing ready to forego their own festivities so that the motoring public may enjoy theirs to the full. However, if the weather is clear, workers will join the rest of Alberta's citizens in enjoying their holidays and family get togethers.

Because the volume of traffic experienced during the holiday season is greater than normal, crews make a special effort to keep the provinces main traffic arteries clear.

-- Within Our Borders.

'Twas a dangerous cliff, as they freely confessed Though to walk near its crest was so pleasant; But over its terrible edge there had slipped A duke and full many a peasant.

So the people said something would have to be done,

But their projects did not at all tally; Some said "Put a fence round the edge of the cliff"

Some "An ambulance down in the valley."

But the cry for an ambulance carried the day, For it spread through the neighboring city, A fence may be useful or not, it is true, For those who had slipped o'er the dangerous cliff;

And the dwellers in highway and alley
Gave pounds and gave pence, not to put up a fence
But an ambulance down in the valley.

For the cliff is alright, if you're careful, they said,

And, if folks ever slip and are dropping,
It is'nt the slipping that hurts them so much
As the shock down below when they're stopping.
So day after day, as these mishaps occurred,
Quick forth would these rescuers sally
To pick up the victims who fell off the cliff
With their ambulance down in the valley.
